Gompers Asks Cummins to Withdraw Bill to Return Rail Lines.

WILL ASK WILSON TO USE INFLUENCE AGAINST BILL

Also Speaks Against Measure to Prevent Rail Strikes.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Protesting against enactment of the Cummins railroad bill now before the senate, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, together with spokesmen for some farmers organizations, today urged Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee to withdraw the bill and to retain control of the railroads a fair and thorough peace time test.

The brotherhood representatives announced that they planned to go to the White House during the day to urge President Wilson to use his influence against passage of the bill.

Senator Cummins said he had no authority to withdraw the bill but expressed his intention of laying the request before the full committee.

Mr. Gompers declared that organized labor wanted the government to retain control of the railroads for two years for the purpose of testing out the best method for their continued operation.

Referring to the anti-strike provision of the bill, Mr. Gompers said: "I do not know whether we are drifting and on that point I am apprehensive. This proposal is filled with the gravest consequence. It will not stop strikes but will make respected citizens law breakers."

The induction against the coal miners, Mr. Gompers declared, did not produce an ounce of coal.

George Hampton, managing editor of the Farmers National Council, declared that the people of the country and even senators and representatives did not understand the railroad bill. The senate he said, was attempting to push it through because of the belief that the President would turn the roads back January 1st.

Mr. Gompers said that the bill was a two year term of extension was what the farmers wanted.

Mr. E. W. Willis, representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and a number of other speakers, pleaded for the two year control extension and defeat of the Cummins measure.

PADEREWSKI RESIGNS POLAND PREMIERSHIP BUT PLEAS CAUSE HIM TO RESUME REINS

Ignace Paderewski, his wife and their son.

Worn out by the vigorous duties of being premier of the struggling young republic of Poland, Ignace Paderewski, world famous musician, recently resigned the office that he might return to his home in Switzerland and resume his music. When leaders pointed out to him that there was no one available who could carry out the plans of the new republic Paderewski reconsidered his decision and will remain in office for a time at least. He is said not to have touched the piano since he became premier.

BUY NOTHING BUT NECESSITIES IS PALMER'S PLAN TO DEFEAT H. C. L.

Attorney General Tells State and City Officials to Organize Fair Price Committees and to Cut Out All Unnecessary Expenditures.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer's plan for a fight against high living costs today was launched in Illinois. He outlined it last night to 400 state and city officials and representatives of women's clubs called here by Governor Frank O. Lowden. Today they returned home to put into practice that part of the campaign possible without further legislation.

Formation of fair price committees in every community and buying by women who Mr. Palmer said, represented 90 per cent of the nation's purchasing power, of nothing but actual necessities until prices come down were especially stressed by the attorney general.

Holding of "conservation and economy meetings" in every community, use of information by mayors and prosecutors to stabilize industrial conditions and remobilization of the "four minute men" to deliver "work and save" addresses in theaters each night were other steps advocated by Mr. Palmer.

Profiteers, the attorney general termed "devils" and he warned the mayors and state attorneys to "go after" them with all the power in your command and hang them high as Haman before you get through with them.

"The country needs to quit fighting and go to work on a maximum production basis," he said, adding that 20 per cent more production would cut 20 per cent from present living costs and 10 per cent reduction of buying of unnecessary would lop off another 20 per cent.

Mr. Palmer's platform for reduction of cost necessities included enactment of laws by congress extending government control of food and food prices for six months after the peace treaty is ratified.

CUT INCOME TAX RATE TO 11-2 PCT IN NEW MEASURE

Solons Try New Bill to Get Revenue For State Purposes.

RURAL MEMBERS WANT HEALTH LAW LEFT INTACT

Taber Again Makes Demand For Law to Reach Intangible Property.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—The house of representatives today by a vote of 85 to 6 passed the Griswold bill making important modifications of the Hughes health code which would become effective January 1. The Griswold bill carries an emergency clause to make it effective at once.

An amendment offered by Representative Hughes that would have cut local health districts off from state aid unless they should have a full time health officer was defeated.

The Griswold bill, besides curtailing the financial budget of health districts, increases the number of health districts from 102, as provided by the Hughes code, to 12.

Columbus, Dec. 17.—A new state income tax bill was in the making today following the defeat last night of the first proposal for a second time by the house of representatives.

The proposal now before the joint taxation committee is to have a general state income tax law levying a tax of one-half of one per cent of all personal incomes over $1,000 for single men and $2,000 for married men with a provision that cities might require an additional tax in order to raise additional revenue for cities.

The first proposal provided for a rate of one per cent on all incomes up to $4,000 and two per cent on all incomes over $4,000. This proposal was beaten in the house Tuesday night by a vote of 35 to 41.

Rural members of the assembly were serving notice on city members today that they would tolerate no removal of the embargo on liquor.

L. J. Taber, master of the state senate, declared that something should be done to bring out intangible property.

The house, at a morning session, debated the amendments to the Hughes public health bill and with the aid of the assembly were preparing to recess Wednesday afternoon in honor of General John J. Pershing, who has been invited to address a joint session.

The legislative committee of the Ohio Police Chiefs' association was in Columbus today in the interest of several bills affecting their interests. They also announced that they will favor a bill to repeal the indeterminate sentence law.

Among the proposals which the police chiefs are urging is a bill to create a state police and firemen's pension law to be financed by fee from foreign insurance companies.

A bill to restore to police chiefs the right to collect state funds was also introduced. It would give police and firemen the right of appeal to the courts from decision of local civil service commissions in case of removal.

FIGHT SAVES CLOTHING DISTRICT FROM FLAMES

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Firemen fought for five hours this morning to save the wholesale clothing district from fire which started in a four story brick building at St. Clair avenue and West Sixth street, entirely destroying it with a loss estimated at $225,000.

Hampered by ice, a near zero temperature and dense clouds of smoke, the firemen seemed for a time the firemen could not check the flames and that many other nearby buildings would be destroyed.

At 9 a.m. however, the fire confined to the building in which it started was under control and the only loss to adjoining buildings was from water.

The destroyed buildings was occupied by Saul Feigenbaum and company, wholesale dealers in woolsens and by the National Tailors.

MAY DELAY SUGAR BILL UNTIL AFTER HOLIDAYS

Washington, Dec. 17.—Passage of the senate sugar bill by the house with amendments sent the measure to conference today with little hope of it coming out in time for final action before congress recesses for the holidays.

The bill, which continues the sugar equalization board through 1920, was passed by the house with amendments which would keep in force the wartime power of the government for the control of prices and movement of sugar.

As passed by the senate, the bill repealed the war-time powers, permitting the licensing control of the sugar business and the requisitioning of stocks of refiners. The conference of the committee from the two houses will make an effort to reach an early agreement of the amendments and send the measure back for final passage.

RHODE ISLAND FIGHT DRY ACT IN U. S. COURT

Asks Permission to Test Validity of National Dry Amendment.

STATE WAS ONE REFUSING TO RATIFY AMENDMENT

Will Ask Court to Enjoin U. S. Officers From Enforcing Act.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Rhode Island, through its attorney general, Herbert Rice, asked the supreme court today for permission to institute original proceedings to test the validity of the national prohibition amendment and to enjoin federal officials from enforcing it in that state.

Validity of portions of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act affecting the constitutional amendment was one of the issues in the printed motion filed with the court.

The proceedings are similar to those instituted yesterday on behalf of the Rhode Island Liquor Dealers Association in New Jersey, although the two cases were the first to be brought by a state. They were filed in compliance with a resolution adopted by the Rhode Island general assembly directing that the state bring a test case against the amendment.

Rhode Island was one of the states which refused to ratify the prohibition amendment.

URGES ALL PAPERS TO USE MINIMUM PAGES

Washington, Dec. 17.—Every newspaper in the country was called on today by the house postoffice committee to reduce its consumption of newsprint paper by voluntary observation for a period of six months in an effort to relieve present serious shortage which the committee has been told threatened the destruction of a number of small papers.

Voluntary cooperation of publishers would obviate the necessity for repressive governmental action, said the committee statement, which was prepared by Chairman Stearns. Members of the committee said that if the publishers carried out the voluntary plan, further action on the Anthony bill to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals using the second class mail privileges would be postponed for the present at least.

Mr. Stearns' statement to the newspaper publishers follows:

"The committee considered the shortage in the newsprint paper supply and believe that unless consumption can be materially reduced it will result in the destruction of a large number of newspapers in the smaller cities and towns, and inflict irreparable injury on the communities served by them; and having in mind the great sacrifices accepted during the war by the voluntary and patriotic cooperation of the people in saving food, fuel and other necessities, in which you had creditable part, we appeal to you to reduce consumption of newsprint paper by at least 10 per cent during the next six months, thereby averting the threatened injury and obviating the necessity for repressive measures in the future."

SHRIEKING WHISTLES ALARM INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Dec. 17.—One long weird, shrieking whistle, then others less strident, finally practically all sirens in the city, mingled with the ringing of a number of bells, broke the stillness of the early morning in Indianapolis today. This was followed by the continual jangling of telephone bell in a local newspaper office.

"I guess it's the end of the world," said one woman tremulously. "The whistles are calling the people to church and I'm going."

It developed later that a throttle on a whistle at a railroad roundhouse had become stuck, starting the din, in which the whistles were joined, without knowing exactly why.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 17.—Dr. Frank Schlessinger, director of the Allegheny observatory, was busy this morning answering telephone calls from anxious persons in all parts of western Pennsylvania who wanted to know just when the "end of the world" would come.

He quoted all their fears with the plain statement that he was unable to tell them, and advised them to go about their business as usual, adding that if the "end" was really coming they would know it without consulting an astronomer. Dr. Schlessinger also has received many letters concerning the "end" some of them evidently written by persons who had taken the matter seriously.

PORTA DENIES THAT HE PREDICTED WORLD'S END

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 17.—Professor Albert Porta, who is generally credited with having predicted the end of the earth today, made no such flat statement, according to information received in university circles here.

Porta, who is said to be an amateur astronomer, at present living just outside of Los Angeles, predicted early in 1917, according to the information that beginning about the middle of December and continuing until the middle of January, there would be a series of terrible storms, earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, the opinion is expressed in university circles that these forecasts have been strongly enlarged upon in the telling until the end of the world predictions was attributed to Porta.

Dr. Hutchins of the University of Michigan stated that Porta is not now and never has been a member of the faculty at Michigan. "We have not been able to discover," said Dr. Hutchins, "that he was ever a student here."

It is understood here that Porta, a number of years ago, was a professor in the University of Turin.

THEY WENT TO CHURCH

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Some of the superstitious here, who according to ministers had quietly prepared for the end of the earth by increased church attendance, still awaited today the catastrophe which had been forecast by Professor Albert F. Porta.

Forecast of the world's ending was expounded by Professor Edwin B. Frost, superintendent of the Williams Bay, Wisconsin, observatory; Professor Forest G. Moulton, of the astronomical department of the University of Chicago, and Professor Philip Fox, who explains the heavens to Northwestern University classes, were read with a degree of skepticism by a few.

Mr. Frost said that for a month letters have been pouring into his office seeking information. He hoped he had relieved one woman's apprehensions when he mailed her a special delivery statement of the "truth," in reply to her assertions that she had "not eaten since she heard of it."

His inquiries came from all over this country and England, he said. "The conjunction of the planets may possibly have some slight effect upon the weather, but no serious disturbance can possibly result," said Professor Moulton.

What's Worth Giving-- Is Worth Giving Well

No other Gift Articles have the lasting and enduring quality of those that come from the Jewelry Store.

Diamonds, Pearls, Watches, Jewelry, Silverware, are of life-long endurance and retain their beauty for ever. They also express more eloquently the sentiment, the love or friendship of the giver.

A "Jewelry Gift" is not necessarily an expensive one. While we have many articles whose prices are pretty high, we have hundreds at moderate prices, too, that fit the moderate purse and that satisfy the desire for beauty and durability.

To the American People

It is the declared purpose of the United States Government to restore the railroads at an early date to the control of their owners.

The Association of Railway Executives represents those upon whom at that time responsibility will again rest for the prompt and successful movement of the country's commerce.

Those constituting this Association are keenly conscious of their accountability to the public.

They have accordingly determined to present as fully as they can, the fundamental facts and considerations which they themselves must face in their efforts to provide satisfactory railroad service.

It is hoped to engage the interest of the whole American people, whose welfare is so vitally dependent upon adequate transportation.

The country can grow only as the railroads grow. The railroad problem must be solved—and solved rightly and soon—if our country is to prosper.

It is to promote that prosperity—permanently and in the interest of the whole people—that railroad executives will present to the public the situation as they see it.

THE LOGICAL RESULT.

The United States is now getting the consistent result of the policy of the senate majority in obstructing the peace treaty. Germany is hindering in every possible way the fulfillment of the peace terms. It seems quite likely that before she finally settles down to accepting the inevitable, the allied forces must advance into the conquered territory and actually take possession of the German centers.

This will increase the stubborn rebellion of the German people, and quite likely may result in new outbreaks and sacrifice of life. General Foch has issued solemn warning against the great secret armies now forming in Germany.

The thing that encourages this new display of resistance is the belief that the allies have split, and will no longer act together. That belief is founded on the action of the senate in rejecting the peace treaty.

If Senator Lodge and his followers had shown a decent spirit of compromise, the treaty would have been ratified long before this. But they demanded the letter of their reservations. Most of which simply redefine principles already existing in the treaty. Compromises are not built on any such one-sided basis.

Furthermore a large part of the senators have made it clear that they are either directly opposed to a League of Nations, or else are very indifferent about forming one. That naturally encourages Germany in her stubborn course, and makes her feel she can defy the allied combination, now weakened by the apparent defection of the United States.

When will the people of the United States, the great majority of whom believe heartily in the League of Nations, rise in their wrath and compel the pillars of the senate to obey their will?

ROVING PEOPLE.

The New York Travellers Aid Society says that during the past year thousands of runaway boys and girls, elopers, migratory workers, and youthful adventurers of all kinds, have flocked to that city and now need help. Similar reports are heard elsewhere. The country is full of people who can't settle down.

It may be said that the war had an effect to promote the restless and unsettled spirit. Most of the soldiers however have had enough of travel, and are glad to locate definitely in their home towns or elsewhere.

During the war great numbers of people were drawn from their homes and customary occupations by the chance to earn high wages. After the war closed, they were turned loose. Some went home and some have drifted aimlessly from one occupation to another. They can find plenty of work in these good times, but their life has no settled purpose.

Great numbers of young people have always felt a desire, as they express it, to "see life." They hate to settle down, in regular occupations near home. Those who set out with a definite and intelligent purpose can take care of themselves. Those who cut loose from old associations merely because they are sick of what they call the humdrum work of life of their home towns, never come to any good. They see only the most attractive side and most superficial aspects of life, and form habits fatal to any permanent success.

The world has little use for rovers and restless people. Its prizes are won only by perseverance, by those who can stick at tiresome drudgery for long periods. It gives the prizes of life only to those who attain high de-

THE FLIGHT TO AUSTRALIA.

(Christian Science Monitor)
When the news first began to reach the outside world, in the early hours of a Sunday morning last June, that two aviators who had started from Newfoundland on the day before, before flying across the Atlantic to Ireland had achieved their purpose, the world, all unconsciously, placed the aeroplane in the honored category of the things that might be taken for granted. For some reason or another, the Atlantic had been the test. The most wonderful overland flights were being made in all directions. Tremendous distances were being covered, and tremendous altitudes attained. Nevertheless, the Atlantic remained "the thin, just as the Strait of Dover had been the thing, almost exactly ten years before. With the Atlantic bridged, both by aeroplane and airship, the world said, in effect, to the aviator, "Now, go ahead, and do what you like."

This, at any rate, was the recent experience of the people of the countryside round Surabaya, in Java, when Captain Ross Smith, on his way from England to Australia, suddenly landed in their midst, when, hearing the last lap of the journey. Three days later, he reached Port Darwin. It was a wonderful achievement. At Port Darwin a good 12,000 miles and more lay behind him, the "silver streak" of the Strait of Dover, a little thing now, the plains of France; the sea, and then Malta; the sea again, and then Egypt; the wilderness of Sinai; the deserts of Arabia. He had flown over the Persian Gulf, between the sky and the sea and the "blue and white" of the Indian Ocean, the Hindu Kush at Karachi. From Karachi to Delhi, from Delhi to Calcutta, across the great plain of Bengal; and then came the grand sweep south, over the wonderful chain of lands to the southern seas, Rangoon, Singapore, Java, the Dutch flying school at Bandung, and so to the last lap of the long journey, over volcanic islands and uncharted seas to the nearest point on the northern Australian coast at Port Darwin.

The story of the great flight still remains to be told, and in due time all the world will hear about it, but meanwhile, the fact of its achievement seems story enough.

ONE WHO CAN NOT PTEER.

(Marquette Mining Journal)
Consider the poor gold miner! He is the only man in the world who has not been able to raise his prices. The stigma of profiteering can never smear his soul, because work as he will he never can get more than a dollar for 22.22 grains of gold. So he is going out of business. For him there is no such thing as the lure of gold. All fiction is reversed; romance is dead; turn down the pages of Treasure Island, drop a fat old Mr. Midas, and buy Captain Kidd, and tell him pieces of eight are not worth the risk of losing one's reputation.

Gold being the world's standard of value, its price does not vary. The gold miner's life is to toil for 22.22 grains of pure gold and that means he has a dollar. He can't sell it for any more; all he can do is to take it to the mint and get 100 cents. But the price of machinery has doubled and tripled and so has the price of pork chops. The machinery man and the laborer and the pork chop man can demand more because of the high cost of everything, but not the gold miner. So he—most of him—has decided to quit.

In 1915 when a dollar meant something the gold production of the United States amounted to about $101,000,000. This year it has amounted to about half that. The reduction is due to no lack of gold to be mined, but merely to the fact that the price of gold is so high that it is not worth mining. It is hard and costly a job digging out 22.22 grains of gold just for a dollar. The miners are probably going into the coal business, or selling groceries or cigars, or boosting on account of the war, or the wet weather or something like that.

Prices and wages have soared so high there is no longer any profit in mining gold. Billions of dollars in gold have poured into the United States as a result of the war. On this gold, used as treasury and bank reserve, our inflated credits have been based. The gold holdings of the Federal Reserve banks in 1915 amounted to $315,977,000. This year they total something like $2,100,000,000. Now when Europe gets back to work, which everybody hopes will be soon, this surplus gold will start pouring back from where it came, our reserves will drop, credit will have to tighten and prices will drop maybe.

But meanwhile the gold mine stands unique, a lone figure in a profiteering world. A stratum of gold means nothing to him if he can only strike a vein of ham sandwiches.

THE NEWARK DAILY ADVOCATE

There is a terrible coercion in our deeds which may at first turn the honest man into a deceiver, and then reconcile him to the change. The action which, before commission has been seen with that blotted common sense and fresh untarnished feeling which is the healthy eye of the soul, is looked afterward with the lens of apologetic ingenuity, through which all things which men call beautiful and ugly are seen to be made up of features very much alike.—George Eliot.

Davis-Gilbert.
Tuesday evening, in the parlors of the Hotel Warden, made exquisitely green and pink with southern smilax, palm and Columbia roses, Miss Helen Gilbert, daughter of Mr. John Volney Gilbert, formerly of Hamilton, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Clay Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of Richmond, Ind.

The impressive service of the Episcopal church was read by the rector, Trinity church, Rev. Lewis P. Frank, III, at six-thirty o'clock, in the presence of many relatives and friends.

The bride, who entered to the strains of the processional, the Lohengrin wedding march, and took her places before an improvised altar banked with palms and smilax. Surrounding the altar were tall French willow baskets filled with pink roses, and cathedral candles. The whole scene was enhanced by the glow of myriads of candles.

Mrs. W. N. Andrews of Hamilton, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Andrews wore a charming frock of orchid satin with which she carried a colonial bouquet of Columbia roses, with shower of sweet peas.

Miss Gilbert entered on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Frank G. Warden. The bridegroom was in a picture-perfect tuxedo of broad silver cloth. The tulle veil, which was held in place by a Duchesse lace cap and orange blossoms, fell in filmy and graceful folds over a full length court train of silver cloth. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and bridal roses.

Mr. Davis was attended by Mr. W. Raymond Kuhn of New York as best man.

Following the marriage service, the orchestra played the Mendelssohn wedding march and the wedding dinner was served in the dining room. It had been transformed by the use of great clusters of southern smilax making a canopy of richest foliage. The circular bride's table seating sixteen friends centered the room, and had great mound of pink roses, swansons and sweet alyssum. The favors were bon-bon cups of hearts and slippers in the center of the table.

The other tables were centered with baskets of pink roses. The orchestra played in the dining room, and dancing was enjoyed during the courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a wedding trip. Mrs. Davis studied at Oxford college and completed her education abroad. Mr. Davis is engaged in the manufacture of motor cars at Richmond, Ind. He held the commission of captain in the air service, receiving a citation.

The out of town guests were: Miss Elizabeth Kuhn, Pittsburgh, Mr. W. Raymond Kuhn, New York, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell of Ottumwa, Ia., Mr. Ben Garver, Springfield, Miss Isabelle Huber and Mr. William Huber, Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Davis, Mr. Ben Johnson, Miss Helen Nicholson, Miss Mary Clements of Richmond, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Andrews, Dr. and Mrs. Gaines Meek, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Down, Miss Helen Reuttschler, Miss J. B. East, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Egbert, Miss Marie Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schengen, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sloneker, Mr. Leeds Brownson, Mr. Walter Howe, Mr. Edgar Seybold of Hamilton.

RENEWS APPEAL FOR USED TOYS

Christmas Committee Says More Generous Response Must Be Made If Kiddies Are Not Disappointed.

Unless there is a more generous response to the call for toys, food and clothing, the work of the Central Christmas committee will be serious quarters but unless more are given, Brown continued "our efforts to fill every stocking in Newark Christmas morning will meet with failure."

"We need toys, clothing, food and money to make the Christmas effort a success. With all the charitable agencies in the city united in this effort, there should have been a more generous response to appeals."

"Newark families who have toys which are no longer needed can render valuable assistance in this work. If they will call Boy Scout headquarters, leaving their name and address, a Boy Scout will be sent after the bundle. These boys will be glad to bring toys, clothing and food to headquarters. Checks should be mailed direct to the treasurer of the committee, R. C. Van Voorhis or the money handed to him personally."

Brown pointed out that all the charitable organizations in the city were united in the movement, that it was not a Boy Scout activity alone but the Rotarians, Kiwanians, Elks, Salvation Army and other charity organizations were interested. The Boy Scouts, he said, were used as an agency to carry on the work because they were already organized into convenient units. Geo. M. Fenberg is chairman of the central committee.

This central committee has adopted as its slogan, "Not an empty stocking in Newark Christmas morning." Baskets of food, toys for children, and clothing needed to keep youngsters warm, will be distributed by the Boy Scouts under the direction of the various agencies of the city. The Salvation Army will, as usual, serve its dinner to the poor children and needy folks.

Milady's Boudoir

Keeping Beautiful at Home.

Carelessness in donning the morning waist, kimono or coffee jacket should not be tolerated by any woman. The housewife should be just as careful of her hair, skin, and working clothing in a neat practical way, as when she was a blushing bride. Use care in selecting the style and color of your house clothing and neatness and harmony will be the result.

The woman who has been engaged for hours in cooking or superintending the cooking of a dinner, will have cause to complain of a florid complexion. While this is a natural result of the necessary exertions and one not to be ashamed of, still it is not necessary to appear in this condition at the table. Knowing that heat and exercise will bring not only color to the face, but in many cases, it is one's duty to remove both for the sake of good appearance, if not for beauty.

This is best done by wiping the face with a soothing astringent lotion and then by applying an even coating of good face powder. Some women object to the use of face powder, but there is no harm in using it, providing the right kind is used. A good cream should be used to clean it off the face when retiring.

Burns on the hands and arms are of frequent occurrence to the housewife and, aside from the pain, they do not add to one's charm. In case of a burn at once apply linseed or sweet oil to the parts affected, and then quickly with baking powder and a little water a soft then cloth. In ordinary burns this will quickly relieve the pain.

Our Boys and Girls

Often the baby fusses in his couch when put there to sleep. Have you looked to see if there is as comfortable a foundation in his carriage as he has when he is put into his crib for the night? Is the coach cushion free from wrinkles? After he has been made comfortable, if he fusses and cries, see if his clothes are wrinkled up under his arms or his little feet uncovered, or his hands cold.

One cannot go far when following the old rule of head, cool and feet warm. Also do not jiggle the baby up and down, rock him to and fro, or worse still shake the couch from side to side thinking to lull him off to sleep. Really one half of the time all the baby wants is to be made comfortable and then be left alone until it is time to be fed or put to bed for a real good long nap.

Don't forget that the baby wants water every day and several times a day. Give it to him between the feedings in a bottle with a nipple. Roll the bottle and the nipple, as well as the water. This is the wise plan to make sure that the water is pure. This method of giving the baby water will greatly help when it is time to wean him, he will accept the bottle more easily.

Everyday Etiquette

"When a friend acquaintance leaves cards for a friend who is in trouble and does not intend to go inside the house, how should she present them?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"She should hand the card to the servant who opens the door, saying: 'For Mr. and Mrs. Blank,' or for 'Miss Blank,'" said her friend.

Echo Always Returns Call.

"What do you mean by the expression in your story 'as sociable as an echo'?" "Why, an echo, you know, always returns your call."

And He'll Know, Too.

Train up a child in the way he should go, and afterward he will tell you wherein you made a mistake.—Lt.

NEW CENSUS TO BE COMPLETE

Plans Laid to Make 1920
Counting of Noses More Thorough Than Any In Nation's History.

The fourteenth decennial census, to which President Wilson has called the attention of the nation in his proclamation is to be the biggest, best and most complete census of the United States ever taken if the plans of the census bureau do not go awry.

Director of the Census, Sam L. Rogers, has announced that everything is in readiness to begin the canvassing campaign that during the month of January, 1920, will cover every mansion, every cottage and every hut in the country. An army of more than 37,000 enumerators, under the direction of 372 census supervisors, will be engaged in making the count. Every person in the land will be enumerated and the names, ages, birthplaces and occupations of all of Uncle Sam's nieces and nephews will be set down and forwarded to Washington.

Many other questions concerning home tenure, citizenship, marital status, literacy, sex, color and race are contained in the population schedule which the enumerators will fill out from the answers given them.

Farmers also will be asked the questions contained in the agriculture schedule relating to their farms. These questions cover farm tenure, farm products, values of farm lands, buildings, implements and improvements, field crops, garden products, farm expenses, livestock, poultry, bees, dairy products, improved and unimproved land, farm drainage and irrigation—in fact, all phases of the farming industry are covered.

Even the family Ford will be counted, as, in fact, will all automobiles and tractors on farms. Questions as to telephones and electric light, gas and water plants also are included in the group of inquiries which fall under the general heading of "farm facilities," the purpose of the government in collecting information of this character being to show the modern improvement installed on farms during the past decade.

The census bureau desires to emphasize the fact that the information gathered in the census is for general statistical purpose only and that such information can not be used as a basis for taxation. Nor can such information be used to harm any person in any way. This is pointed out in the President's Proclamation.

As a matter of fact the identity of individuals is lost as soon as the filled-out schedules are received at Washington. For upon reaching there the information is transferred from the sheets to cards. This is done by machinery and names are discarded entirely. Moreover, every person connected with the taking of the census is prohibited by federal law from divulging any information given them in the performance of their duties.

The bureau of the census has always had the willing co-operation of the public in the past and confidently looks forward to the same spirit of cooperation for the census of 1920.

MEXICO SAYS JENKINS INCIDENT IS CLOSED

Mexico City, Dec. 17.—The release of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Puebla, under bail, has removed all motive for misunderstanding between the Mexican and United States governments regarding the Jenkins issue, according to the reply of the Mexican government to the second American note. The Mexican reply was handed to the American charge d'affaires last night.

SAYS WAR DIDN'T CAUSE MAN TO DEFAULT ROAD JOB

Columbus, Dec. 17.—Representative Louts of Morgan county, yesterday asked the legislature for appointment of a committee to investigate the claim of Frank J. Bentz, Columbus contractor, who defaulted on a state highway contract.

A bill to relieve Bentz of the obligation passed both houses last week under impression that Bentz defaulted because he was drafted for military service.

Fouts said the contract was abandoned two years before Bentz went to war. The bill is being held in the senate for reconsideration.

Another thing that's curtailin' production in this country is that so many people are loafin' in their stockin' feet while they git their shoes half soled. Life Bud is takin' a candy cure.

Exactly Like Boys.

On the track of the secret of the life that is in matter, scientists devised a dentograph, consisting of a metal frame constructed of an alloy which does not expand or contract from changes in temperature which encircling tree trunks, records the minutest changes in the dimensions of a tree, resulting in the discovery that some trees, like the pine show great daily variations in growth, while others, like the oak, grow steadily and continuously.—Boys' Life.

What other phonograph dares this test?

DID you ask some one about the Edison Tone-Test recital given last Friday in The High School Auditorium? The startled audience heard Glen Ellison's living voice flood the packed house. It then heard the New Edison* match that voice, even unto its finest variation of shading and feeling.

Any one who was present will tell you:

THE ART OF THE LIVING ARTIST AND ITS RE-CREATION BY THE NEW EDISON CAN NOT BE TOLD APART.

It is no idle phrase that you can enjoy Case, Middleton, Hempel, Matzenauer, Spalding—in your own home. The New Edison brings all that the great artist can bring, except his physical presence. It is the phonographic triumph of the age.

What to look for in Gasoline

The thing to look for in gasoline is a low initial boiling point.

Red Crown's low boiling point gives ready vaporization at low temperatures. You don't wait for the engine to warm up—it's ready. You start right—increased speed—go swiftly or slowly with equal power and certainty with Red Crown. Its uniformity gives steady, even vaporization.

Polarine, the friction-killing lubricant, works hand in glove with Red Crown. Keeps the engine's joints and bearings ready for quick starting and smooth running. Retains its fluidity in cold weather.

Polarine Cup Greases and Transmission Lubricants protect the bearings—save repair bills. Look for the Red Crown Sign on Service Stations and Garages.

PROMINENT BUSINESS MEN
GIVE THEIR ENDORSEMENT OF PHARIS TIRE AND RUBBER CO.

For the purpose of expanding the factory and increasing the output, the Pharis Tire and Rubber company of Newark is selling an issue of $250,000 4 per cent preferred stock. This stock is non-taxable under the laws of Ohio and the dividends, payable quarterly, are exempt under present normal federal income tax. Subscription books will be open only a short time. All of the Newark Chamber and Chamber of Commerce endorse this proposition. E. D. Reese and H. M. Sayre, representing the company, are calling upon the people of this community in the interest of this stock issue. The Pharis Tire and Rubber company has no preferred stock except this issue. The company has surplus and undivided profits of $150,000. Roe Emerson, prominent Newark clothier and Newark Trust bank director, says: "By means of this communication, I express my endorsement of the Pharis Tire and Rubber company. Helping to enlarge, to promote the interests of this solid, prosperous, well educated institution will surely aid in building Greater Newark."

John A. Chilcote, real estate operator, Franklin National bank director and former sheriff of Licking county says: "I think it constitutes an attractive and safe investment. Such development increases the value of each home and business property and promotes the growth of our city as a home market for the agricultural products of our country. I hope to see the entire issue of this stock quickly subscribed."

Charles C. Metz, director of the Newark Trust company and well known retired business man of this city, writes: "Complying with your request I reply with the following: In my opinion the most commendable features of the Pharis Tire and Rubber company are the absence of uncertainties. The demand for tires is sure to continue, and that the competency of the company has been well tested. The foregoing features carry with them the assurance that the good qualities of their product will be maintained. With these fundamental principles in view, the proposition of bond issue recommends itself."

All records for the production of butter by a single cow are believed to have been broken by the registered yearling Lulu Alpha of Ashburn. She produced 13,689 pounds of milk, from which 1,000 pounds of butter were made, in the year ending Nov. 1. The American Jersey club has made the announcement. The butter produced is 100 pounds more than the cow's weight, and is said to be five times the normal production. The milk tested at 5.85 per cent butter fat. J. J. 15 EGGS A DAY FROM 23 HENS, IN WINTER

Mr. Duni's Hens Increased Every Day. Plan is Easily Tried.

"We have 23 chickens and hadn't had an egg all winter. In five days after feeding Don Sung, we got four to five eggs a day; in three weeks, we were getting 10 to 12 eggs a day; in five weeks we got 15 to 10 eggs a day. John Duni, Box 102, Cherry Valley, Pa. Mr. Duni started giving his hens Don Sung in January, in zero weather. He now keeps his hens busy in cold weather, when hens usually stop laying. A trial costs nothing. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 234 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

COMMANDER INSPECTS CAMP AT CHILLICOTHE

Chillicothe, Dec. 17.—Following a conference in Major General Glenn's office at Camp Sherman this morning, General John J. Pershing reviewed the troops at the Ohio cantonment. He and his party, accompanied by General Glenn then made a tour of inspection of the cantonment.

Accepting the reception accorded him at the camp last night as he said "not for myself alone, but for all the boys who were over there with me," General Pershing expressed himself as well pleased with the way he was received.

Two sergeants who had served with the commander of the A. E. F. before the war were present at the festivities at the community house last night. Immediately upon seeing them he stepped forward, called them by name and shook hands.

One youngster, three years old, came toddling toward the general. "You're just about the right age to kiss," he said as he lifted the child in his arms. Shaking hands with ex-service men he warmly greeted one private who was wearing an American distinguished service cross. He also displayed much concern when talking with men who were wearing wound chevrons, asking where they were injured and how they are getting along.

General Pershing and his party will leave this afternoon at 1:15 for Columbus, accompanied by Major General Glenn and staff. They will accompany the mayor's committee from Columbus in a special car over the Scioto Valley traction line, arriving in Columbus about 2:30 p. m.

DENIES KNOWLEDGE OF DEATH OF DANSEY BOY

Hammon, N. J., Dec. 17.—Friends of Charles S. White of this place, issued a statement yesterday denying that he had anything to do with the death of "Billy" Dansey.

White, who is 29 years old, and is in the county jail at May's Landing, charged with the murder of the little boy, said, according to the statement: "There is absolutely no evidence to connect me with the disappearance and death of poor little Billy Dansey. I am not a murderer, neither am I a criminal."

White announced that application will be made to Judge Black, at Jersey City, for a writ of habeas corpus. This, he thinks, will force Prosecutor Chickill, who caused the arrest, to reveal what evidence he has.

White, in a statement to his friends, said: "My arrest is one of the biggest outrages ever perpetrated by overzealous law officers upon innocent persons."

Mrs. Edith L. Jones, who is imprisoned as an accessory of White, also declared her innocence. "In my declining years I am subjected to the humiliation of being cast into prison, charged with having hid the death of a poor little boy I loved almost as much as if he were my own."

Mrs. Jones was a frequent visitor at the Dansey home, and had been housekeeper in the White family for 18 years.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE TO USE HICKEY HALL

Beginning Tuesday night December 23 the Industrial Basketball league games will be played in Hickey hall in South Fourth street. This action was taken following the invitation of Heiseys back to the hall. The seating capacity is three times that of the Y. M. C. A. and the spectators will be able to see every move of the players. Another good feature will be the use of the score board which will keep the fans acquainted with the score from play to play as the game progresses. The larger playing surface will be welcomed by the teams in the league and much better games should result.

New Rates for Conservation of Natural Gas and Readjustment of Service

In keeping with our adopted policy of absolute frankness in our campaign of education for the conservation of natural gas and a readjustment of rates, we are printing the following letter which has been mailed to the Mayor and Councilmen of your municipality, so that our consumers may be fully informed as to this final appeal in their behalf for the preservation and prolongation of service of this economical, convenient, and cleanly fuel resource.

To the Honorable—The Mayor and Council:

Reaching a conclusion in our campaign of education to conserve natural gas and in the interest of our consumers decrease demand upon an inadequate supply, we desire to enlist your co-operation and the support of your constituents in applying means to that end to all municipalities alike upon our whole system.

In keeping with our established policy of dealing frankly with all communities and patrons served therein, we take this opportunity of informing you that we have filed with the Ohio Utilities Commission the following schedule of rates in all municipalities upon our system in which no rate ordinance is existing:

48c per 1000 cubic feet for the first 5,000 cubic feet each month.
53c per 1000 cubic feet for the next 5,000 cubic feet each month.
58c per 1000 cubic feet for the next 5,000 cubic feet each month.
63c per 1000 cubic feet for all over 15,000 cubic feet each month.
Subject to a discount of 3c per 1000 cubic feet if paid within ten (10) days after the bill for the previous monthly reading period has been issued.
Minimum charge—The price of 2000 cubic feet at the rate first above mentioned.

That no discrimination be apparent and that all communities benefitted by natural gas service assume their proportionate share of the expense of its maintenance, and that the service be so readjusted by the ascending scale of rates to restrict large users and make an adequate supply meet present demands sufficiently for the restricted needs of the household for cooking, hot water heating, lighting, and other small domestic purposes, we are asking for such action on the part of your legislative body as will make the adoption of the new rates possible in your municipality.

This will not increase our earnings because with a decrease of 40% to 50% in our sales which will occur, and, which, as experience has proven, has occurred where similar rates have been adopted, very little if any increase will be apparent in the consumers' monthly bills because of a more economic consumption and use of gas.

The primary object of our campaign has been and still is to bring home to the natural gas user the true condition confronting the industry and the evidence of a very early exhaustion threatened this fuel resource unless immediate steps are taken to materially reduce consumption, penalize waste and eliminate selfish excessive demands.

The all important consideration is the maintaining and prolonging of the supply, so that its economy, convenience, and cleanliness may lighten the household burdens for the longest possible period of time. With the present rate of consumption continuing unchecked, natural gas will not be available in many Ohio towns for more than two or three years, or in any community but those in the immediate vicinity of old gas fields for any considerable period beyond that time.

Opposition to means to bring about conservation and economy in consumption will but hasten exhaustion, and Ohio will face the condition brought about in Indiana when every means to save and conserve natural gas was fought in the Courts, and a supply that should have lasted 64 years was exhausted in sixteen years.

Today 872,000 homes in this state are supplied with natural gas, sixty per cent of which is derived from the little state of West Virginia, which also contributes a large share to the supply of Western Pennsylvania, Western and Southern New York, Western Maryland, and Eastern Kentucky. Forty per cent, only, of the gas consumed in Ohio is obtained within her borders, and the general depletion of the gas sands and the decline in production in both new and old wells is so general and marked as to indicate an early exhaustion of the resource in this state altogether.

Increasing demand from without and growing consumption within the borders of West Virginia are having their effect and marked decline in initial rock pressures and volumes of production in new wells are so pronounced as to attract attention of state officials, and citizens. The West Virginia legislature has passed a law to restrict future supplies of gas now being sent to Ohio and Pennsylvania, which is now before the U. S. Supreme Court for its decision. The West Virginia State Utilities Commission has just recently ordered one gas transporting company serving Ohio communities to make connections with a company in West Virginia and to serve it without regard to its Ohio obligations.

Any interference to reduce the supply of natural gas received by Ohio from West Virginia will be an appalling disaster to the service in this state. Each succeeding year for the past three or four years, the volume of gas received from West Virginia has showed marked decline and it is apparent that this decline must, because of depletion, continue in increasing ratio as the years go by.

Consumers of natural gas should be made to realize that unrestricted consumption cannot continue, that producing companies can no longer maintain a supply to meet even present demand let alone the general increase in that demand, and that unless conservation is at once made effective and the service revalued to bring about actual conservation and meet the enormous increased costs of maintaining an adequate supply for restricted use the early demoralization of the industry is assured and its complete destruction inevitable.

This is a vital question of such far reaching importance as to warrant a most thorough investigation to acquaint the consumers of the true condition confronting the industry and impressing upon them the necessity of cooperation and coordination of effort for prolonging the life of natural gas with its economical and convenient use and to delay the day when resort will have to be made to the more expensive and less desirable substitute fuels.

Will you lend your influence to the work of conservation to the end that your constituents best interests will best be served by such effort as you may put forth in its behalf.

ALHAMBRA.
Manager Fenberg's Alhambra theater offers today and tomorrow Albert Ray and Elinor Fair in a racing story that will please all. This is another of those happy snappy love stories in which Cupid gets things all tangled up then straightens them out in most unusual but pleasing fashion. First, Jimmie Driscoll, jockey (Albert Ray), is fired from Jim Richardson's racing stable because he's become too heavy for his job. He goes straight to the home of the late Joy Bell (Elinor Fair), a "cutie" girl with big brown eyes, who is the main attraction to Jimmie. Jimmie finds Vagabond, last of the Bell racers, and now regarded as in his turt decline, being carried by the little negro jockey Jumbo. He confides his troubles to Jumbo, adding, as he pats Vagabond:

"Poor old nag! His racing days are over, too."

Now, the main trial of the Bell family is lack of funds, chief sufferer being the fast young scion Harry, who writes a hurry letter home to his sister that he must have $500 at once or get into trouble. Harry follows hot-foot on his letter, determined, in spite of joy's protest, to enter old Vagabond in the selling race on the following Saturday.

In Dave's poolroom, where the touts and gamblers congregate, Spike Bradley, a crooked bookmaker, hears of the entry of old Vag and determines to make money out of poor Harry. He starts the horse as a 20 to 1 shot, telling Harry that Vag will be a cinch; and Harry mortgages his half of the old home for $500 to place on the race.

Jimmie discovers Harry in the poolroom and, like a good friend, goes to Harry's pretty sister—unconsciously pleading his own cause by telling her that she must prevent Harry throwing away money on Vagabond, whose racing days are over. Like a good little sport, the sister goes to the bookmaker and begs him, but in vain, to cancel Harry's bet. Then in the goodness of his heart, Jimmie endeavors to dissuade Harry—but is only attacked by Spike, who overhears the conversation.

"Lord and Lady Algy."
The latest Goldwyn picture, "Lord and Lady Algy," in which smiling Tom Moore is starred, will be shown at the Alhambra theater, beginning Friday.

An unusually capable cast has been selected to support the star, the leading feminine role being assumed by Naomi Childers. Miss Childers, who was voted the most beautiful screen actress in Japan, is perfectly cast as the stately wife of the young Lord Algy, whose love for horse racing brings about his financial ruin. She is an actress who knows the value of a titled Englishwoman reveals the cold exterior with a few words but cannot quite conceal a warm nature. Frank Leigh, as Lord Algy's scallawag brother in a truly vicious manner, while William Burress as Burlington Thway, the millionaire soap manufacturer, evokes round after round of laughter with every appearance he makes. Mabel Balin, as the young, beautiful wife of the soap king, looks beautiful and acts her role winsomely. As usual, Kate Lester portrays a regal dowager with life-like fidelity. Leslie Stuart, Alec E. Francis, Philo McCullough, and Hal Taintor complete a competent and versatile cast.

AUDITORIUM

Back To God's Country.
The Auditorium for four days beginning today offers what critics say—the best photoplay sensation of the year in "Back To God's Country" with Neil Shipman as the star.

A large cast of players—scenery of the Great North and animals galore are said to prevail throughout. The story of "Back To God's Country" is as follows:

Dolores LeBeau lives in the mountain wilds with her father and the animals of the forest are her only companions. Peter Burke, a novelist meets her on one of his tramping expeditions and falls in love.

The attraction is mutual and they plan to marry, but as soon as he returns from making a report to his government. Captain Rydal, a coastwise trader and fugitive from justice, sees the girl and attacks her. Her father comes to her rescue and in the struggle with a companion of Rydal, kills him. Rydal pretends to arrest LeBeau, but huris him over a cliff, killing him.

Burke returns just in time to see Dolores swimming from a stream with the body of her father. He takes her to his home, where they are happily married.

Later, Burke takes his wife on another exploration trip. They accidentally get on Capt. Rydal's ship. He drops a heavy sail on Burke, seriously injuring him. Then he plots with a storekeeper in the Arctic to lose Burke in the ice fields so that he can secure the girl.

Dolores hears of the plot and at the point of a pistol, forces the storekeeper to send her on a sled to the nearest settlement. Rydal pursues, and is about to capture when Wapi, a savage dog that Dolores has been kind to, attacks the dog team and kills or cripples the dogs.

The couple finally get to the settlement, and Rydal, lost in the ice fields, plunges to his death in an icy stream.

Across the Frozen Trail Have Come "Wapi," the Killer, the Great Dane in Whose Veins Flows the Blood of Fighting Generations, and Dolores, the Swimming Girl of the Wilds!

NEVER BEFORE A FILM LIKE THIS!
16 KINDS OF WILD ANIMALS!

Dolores the Fair, the swimming girl of the wilds, came dripping from her secret pool, robed only in the glittering gold of her wondrous hair—Rydal the renegade, who had watched her with evil eyes from his hiding place, rushed to grasp her—when suddenly from a chasm in the rocks a great bear arose, growling fiercely before him, and Dolores snuggled by its side seeking the protection of a great dumb friend from the danger of a great human beast.

Dolores had made friends of all the animals of the wilds and in her time of need they stood by her. From her gentle home in the Canadian woods, Rydal, the villainous outlaw, pursued her, followed her trail like an ugly shadow across the timber lands, over the Arctic Seas, through the unbroken trails of the unending snows, and then when her last defense was gone and the dog sledge of her enemy threatened to overtake her, there was none to defend, save "Wapi, the Killer," the great Dane, who had felt the whip of men who did not understand him, and the gentle caress of a woman's hand—would he fail her?

"Sic 'em, Wapi," she cried—and Wapi tore at her enemy.

"Are You Fit to Marry?"

Dr. Haiselden's sensational sex problem play, "Are You Fit to Marry?" dealing with the famous Bollinger baby case, will be shown at the Gem theater Thursday and Friday. The film is one that will appeal to thinking people who recognize the wisdom of the propaganda for stringent eugenic marriage laws to prevent the transmission of hereditary diseases.

The big underlying thought of this picture was prompted by an accidental insight into the conditions of mankind that have always been kept as a dark secret. The very things that should have been given to the light of the civilized world have been shrouded in darkness. There is no more vital knowledge necessary to our happiness than that of our fitness to marry. Not only does it affect our own lives, but also governs the destiny of our children. A healthy nation is a happy nation and a successful nation. Happiness and health go hand in hand, and clean bodies make clean minds. "Are You Fit to Marry?" answers these questions in a most interesting manner, with a story full of pathos, sentiment and love. No one, young or old, can afford to miss knowing this uncovered secret.

The story was written by the well known Jack Lait and woven around the refusal of Dr. Harry J. Haiselden to operate to save the lives of defective and hopelessly deformed babies. The cast, consisting of the best talent in motion pictures, the photoplay and direction are excellent. It is not a morbid story, but one that will interest you from start to finish with a series of interesting events told rapidly and backed by a most powerful story. The film is positively not offensive, but owing to the delicate subject with which it deals, it will be shown strictly to separate audiences only, and no children will be admitted.

The performances have been arranged as follows: Women only, 12 to 11 Thursday, Friday 12 to 7 p. m. Men only, Friday 7 to 11 p. m.

Anita Stewart. The tremendous pressure of an unscrupulous blackmail threat upon a person of big affairs, is demonstrated in Vitaphone's new picture, "The Wreck." Morey, a player who has gained great fame in other super-films. The comedy is "Trial By Jury," presented by the Sunbeam company.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

Davis-Gilbert.
Tuesday evening in the parlors of the Hotel Warden, made exquisitely green and pink with southern smilax, palms and Columbia roses, Miss Helen Gilbert, daughter of Mrs. John Volney Gilbert, formerly of Hamilton, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Clay Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of Richmond, Ind.

The impressive service of the Episcopal church was read by the rector of Trinity church, Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, at six-thirty o'clock, in the presence of many relatives and friends.

The bride, who wore a charming gown of the latest fashion, the light green wedding march and took their places before an improvised altar, banked with palms and smilax. Surrounding the altar were tall French willow baskets filled with pink roses and cathedral candles. The whole scene was enhanced by the glow of myriads of candles.

Mrs. W. N. Andrews of Hamilton, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Andrews wore a charming frock of orchid satin with which she carried a colonial bouquet of Columbia roses, with a shower of sweet peas.

Miss Gilbert entered on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Frank O. Warden. The bridegroom was picturesquely fashioned of brocade silver cloth. The tulle veil, which was held in place by a Duchess lace cap and orange blossoms, fell in filmy and graceful folds over a full length court train of silver cloth. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and bridal roses.

Mr. Davis was attended by Mr. W. Raymond Kuhn of New York as best man.

Following the marriage service the orchestra played the Mendelssohn wedding march and the wedding dinner was served in the dining room. It had been transformed by the use of great clusters of southern smilax making a power of richest foliage. The circular bride's table seating sixteen friends entered the room, and had great round of pink roses, swainssona, and sweet alyssum. The favors were bon-bon cups of hearts and slippers in pink. The other tables were centered with baskets of pink roses. The orchestra played in the dining room and dancing was enjoyed during the courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis left for a wedding trip. Mrs. Davis studied at Oxford college and completed her education abroad. Mr. Davis is engaged in the manufacture of motor cars at Richmond, Ind. He held the commission of captain in the air service, receiving a citation.

The out of town guests were: Miss Elizabeth Kuhn, Pittsburgh, Mr. W. Raymond Kuhn, New York, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell of Ottumwa, Ia., Mr. Ben Garver, Springfield, Miss Isabelle Huber and Mr. William Huber, Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Davis, Mr. Ben Johnson, Miss Helen Nicholson, Miss Mary Clements of Richmond, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Andrews, Dr. and Mrs. Gaines Meek, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Down, Miss Helen Rentschler, Miss Lottie East, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Egbert, Miss Marie Schlosser, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schlegel, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sloneker, Mr. Leeds Brownson, Mr. Walter Rowe, Mr. Edgar Seybold of Hamilton.

The members of the Whatsoever Circle of The King's Daughters will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Oxley in 60 East Church street, Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

An attractive Christmas program was presented by the Unity Reading Circle Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. S. Swingle in North street. The quotations told of the Christmas season and Mrs. Floyd Childs gave a paper on "The Christ in Art." "Carols of the Yule," where they originated and how they are sung was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Carl Evans. Miss Emma Lisey told of Christmas hymns and their writers and the club sang "Silent Night."

The Women's Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. William Street, 121 Hudson avenue, Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Missionary society and Ladies' association of Plymouth church will hold a joint meeting Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Doris Andrews in Oakwood avenue.

The members of the Independent Circle were entertained at the home of Mrs. John Lamb in Fleck avenue Friday afternoon. After a short business session a delicious two course luncheon was served. The club purse was received by Mrs. Mary Cravshaw. The next meeting will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Her, of Oak street, gave a party Tuesday night, honoring their sons, Raymond and Paul, it being the anniversary of the birth of both boys. The evening was spent in music and conversation and at a late hour refreshments were served to a number of guests.

RENEWS APPEAL FOR USED TOYS

Christmas Committee Says More Generous Response Must Be Made If Kiddies Are Not Disappointed.

"Unless there is a more generous response to the call for toys, food and clothing, the work of the Central Christmas committee will be seriously affected," declared Scout Executive K. L. Brown, who is actively in charge of the community Christmas work.

"We have some toys already at headquarters but unless more are given," Brown continued, "our efforts to fill every stocking in Newark Christmas morning will meet with failure."

"We need toys, clothing, food and money to make the Christmas effort a success. With all the charitable agencies in the city united in this effort, there should have been a more generous response to appeals."

"Newark families who have toys which are no longer needed can render valuable assistance in this work. If they will call Boy Scout headquarters, leaving their name and address, a Boy Scout will be sent after the bundle. These boys will be glad to bring toys, clothing and food to headquarters. Checks should be mailed direct to the treasurer of the committee, R. C. Van Voorhis or the money handed to him personally."

Brown pointed out that all the charitable organizations in the city were united in the movement, that it was not a Boy Scout activity alone but the Rotarians, Kiwanians, Elks, Salvation Army and other charity organizations were interested. The Boy Scouts, he said, were used as an agency to carry on the work because they were already organized into convenient units. Geo. M. Fenberg is chairman of the central committee.

This central committee has adopted as its slogan, "Not an empty stocking in Newark Christmas morning." Baskets of food, toys for children, and clothing needed to keep youngsters warm, will be distributed by the Boy Scouts under the direction of the various agencies of the city. The Salvation Army will, as usual, serve its dinner to the poor children and needy folks.

Milady's Boudoir

Keeping Beautiful at Home.
Carelessness in donning the morning waist, kimono or coffee jacket should not be tolerated by any woman. The housewife should be just as careful of her hair, skin, and working clothing, in a neat practical way, as when she was a blushing bride. Use care in selecting the style and color of your house clothing and neatness and harmony will be the result.

The woman who has been engaged for hours in cooking or superintending the cooking of a dinner, will have cause to complain of a florid complexion. While this is a natural result of the necessary exertions and one not to be ashamed of, still it is not necessary to appear in this condition at the table. Knowing that heat and exercise will bring not only color to the face, but in many cases, it is one's duty to remove both for the sake of good appearance, if not for beauty.

This is best done by wiping the face with a soothing astringent lotion and then by applying an even coating of good face powder. Some women object to the use of face powder, but there is no harm in using it, providing the right kind is used. A good cream should be used to clean it off the face when retiring.

Burns on the hands and arms are of frequent occurrence to the housewife and, aside from the pain, they do not add to one's charm. The best remedy is to apply linseed or sweet oil to the parts affected, and then quickly with baking powder and bind with a soft linen cloth. In ordinary burns this will quickly relieve the pain.

Often the baby fusses in his couch when put there to sleep. Have you looked to see if there is as comfortable a foundation in his carriage as he has when he is put into his crib for the night? Is the coach cushion free from wrinkles? After he has been comfortable, if he fusses and cries, see if his clothes are wrinkled up under his arms or his little feet uncovered, or his hands cold.

One cannot go far when following the old rule of head, cool and feet warm. Also do not jiggle the baby up and down, rock him to and fro, or suddenly shake the coach from side to side thinking to put him off to sleep. Really one half of the time all the baby wants is to be made comfortable and then be left alone until it is time to be fed or put to bed for a real good long nap.

Don't forget that the baby wants water, wants it every day and several times a day. Give it to him between the feedings in a bottle with a nipple. Boil the bottle and the nipple, as well as the water. This is the wise plan to make sure that the water is pure. This method of giving the baby water will greatly help when it is time to wean him; he will accept the bottle more easily.

Everyday Etiquette

"When a calling acquaintance leaves cards for a friend who is in trouble and does not intend to go inside the house, how should she present them?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"She should hand the card to the servant who opens the door, saying: 'For Mr. and Mrs. Blank,' or for 'Miss Blank,'" said her friend.

ENGLAND AND JAPAN
 MAY NOT RENEW PACT

Tokio, Dec. 2.—Whether the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which expires next year will be renewed is a subject of considerable speculation in Tokyo dis-matic circles. It is pointed out here that the world conditions have so changed since the alliance was inaugurated that both parties, particularly England, may no longer see the necessity of such an agreement. The victory over Germany, for instance, makes it possible for Great Britain to maintain a far larger naval force in the waters of the Pacific without further dependence on Japan.

Viscount Kato, who was Japanese ambassador to London when the alliance originated, is in favor of the continuance of the alliance.

NEW YEAR'S CROWDS TO DRINK CIDER

New York, Dec. 17.—New Yorkers, who in years past have heralded each new year with the popping of corks from champagne bottle and attendant festivities in the "white light" districts, hotels and restaurants, will drink to the health of 1920 with sweet cider. Many of the city's leading hotels, despairing of disposing of their well stocked winolars because of the supreme court's order today commenced laying in plentiful supplies of this "prohibition tip-ple." However, indications were that the new year's celebration will not be entirely dry were seen in the announcement that many hotels have already reserved entire suites for private parties which will have their own liquor.

WHY BE PALE?
 TAKE PEPTO-MANGAN

Pepto-Mangan Increases and Enriches
 The Supply of Red Blood—Builds Strength.

Restores Color and Appetite.

Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form—Both Alike in Medicinal Qualities.

Why do pallid, thin, listless, easily-exhausted men and women continue to make themselves and those around them unhappy by that condition when they can so easily overcome it?
 Unless a man or woman is suffering from some serious, deep-seated ailment, a prominent remedy that will overcome that continual tired, worried, sluggish feeling is within easy reach.

Pepto-Mangan contains just the elements needed to change thin, watery blood to good, red blood. Pepto-Mangan builds rich, red blood, enabling it to carry strength and vigor to every part of the body.

In a short time the great change is noticeable. The cheeks fill out and attain the wholesome, rosy complexion of health; the appetite returns, the eyes sparkle, the step quickens, the entire system is filled with renewed vigor.

Pepto-Mangan is offered in two forms, liquid and tablet. Both possess exactly the same medicinal qualities.

All druggists sell Pepto-Mangan.
 Look after the name "Guide's" on the package. It "Guide's" is not there it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

 "Headaches a Thing of the Past."

This Morgantown, W. Va., man has the very best of reasons for giving praise. He will readily be seen by those who read the following statement, which he made over his own signature
 a few days ago. Mr. Furman is a well known plasterer and contractor.

Reagan's Drug Store—Had nervous breakdown three years ago. Had been to Detroit sanitarium but got no better. Couldn't sleep at all well. Had pains in my side and stomach. Was extremely nervous and suffered constantly from heartburn.

I had taken two bottles of Nerv-
 Worth and feel altogether different.
 Get up in the morning rested and feeling fit. Stomach and appetite fine.
 Stomach no longer aches and aches.

CUT INCOME TAX

 relief to state and local taxing districts following the overwhelming defeat in the house last night of the income tax bill. The bill received only 35 favorable votes with 21 against and 14 consideration. When it was first voted on last week it lacked only five votes of enough to pass it.

The taxation committee was working on the bill on Wednesday, which would permit local districts upon vote of the people, to impose an income tax to provide relief for municipalities and was also considering proposed amendments to the Smith percent law as a measure of city relief.
 Automobile club secretaries from over the state were meeting here today preparing to launch a fight in the court against the enforcement of the graduated motor vehicle tax, which has just passed, on the grounds that it is unconstitutional.

The house was scheduled to convene at 10 a. m. today to take up the amendments to the Hughes health code. These amendments remove all civil service provisions relative to employment of local health officials and nurse make it optional with local health districts whether they shall have full time health officers or not,
 and strike out many of the mandatory features of the Hughes bill.

Both the house and senate will receive this afternoon to participate in the reception of General Pershing in the state house. General Pershing has been invited to appear before a joint meeting of the two houses and address them.

Representative Brach of Lucas county introduced a bill in the house last night which would authorize municipalities to issue general credit bonds to buy, condemn or construct street car lines. The bill grows out of the street railway controversy in Toledo.

A bill proposed by Congressman Welby of Lima, to provide for the state's participation in the plan of dividing a canal from the Great Lakes to the Ohio river will be introduced in the senate today by Senator Bellevue of Hamilton county, and in the house by Representative Bryson of Greene county. It is to be known as the "canal district act of Ohio" and provides for the organization and administration of canal districts along the route of the canal.

When the federal government selects the route for the canal the governor of the state by proclamation will designate the canal district which will include property 25 miles on either side of the proposed canal. The district will then be created by petition signed by 5,000 electors living within the zone calling a special election. If the electors approve the creation of a district the governor will then appoint a board of five commissioners to have charge of the district.

This board of commissioners is given power to appoint three appraisers to assess benefits. If the amount of the benefits appraised is not 10 percent in excess of the amount required by congress to be contributed to the project, then all further participations are extended for two years. If congress in that period does not reduce the amount to be contributed by the benefited property then the commissioners may dissolve the district.

Government engineers have been working for several months making preliminary surveys of four different routes across the state for the proposed canal. The bill to be introduced in the legislation might be applicable to any of the proposed routes.

Tonight's games: B. & O. vs. Burke Golf; Midland vs. American Bottle.

The Holophane slogan, "get Heiseys" was lost in the landslide that hit the shade makers and only by a stroke of luck was the Holophane squad able to score at all. Barry caged the only tally for his team and was given two chances on free throws neither of which registered. Olson, Ruten and Herzog had their eyes on the hoop and scored repeatedly. Final score: Heisey 54, Holophane 2.

The second contest proved to be a fast one when the American Motor Truck squad outplayed the Wehrle team and by the win changed places with the stove men in the league standing. Allen's quick playing with Young's good passing kept the motor boys in the lead. The Wehrle squad were handicapped by injuries to one of their forwards. Their inability to move the ball quickly cost them more than one good shot at the basket. Wehrle entered the name of a new eligible, T. S. Satter, who was called by a late entry 6. Final score: American Motor 17, Wehrle 4.

HARDING WILL EXPECT HELP FROM FRIENDS

Columbus, Dec. 17.—United States Senator Warren G. Harding, is now openly in the race for the Republican nomination for President in 1920. His announcement that he would consent to the use of his name as a Presidential candidate and at the proper time would file his declaration as required by law came yesterday in a letter to J. Clare Hughes, chairman of the Republican executive committee of Miami county, the first county to endorse him for president.

Although Harding says he cannot give his candidacy any personal activity before the convention at Chicago, June 8, it is expected that his friends in Ohio will at once proceed to attempt to secure for him the Ohio delegation. Headquarters may soon be opened in Columbus. Harry M. Daugherty has been among the leaders in urging him to assent to entering expected to have charge of the pre-convention campaign. Harding says he will announce no platform at this time.

STRIKERS KILL AGED MAN.
Youngstown, Dec. 17.—The first fatality in Youngstown as a result of the steel strike came today with the death of Fred Pachen, 72, who was attacked and beaten while on his way home from a Carnegie Steel company plant, December 4. He recovered consciousness for a period of a few hours shortly after the attack. John Preach, alias John Pritch, 37, is under arrest in connection with the case. One other fatality occurred in East Youngstown, a separate village, a month ago.

COL. WILSON VERY WEAK.
Col. E. S. Wilson's remarkable reserve strength brought him through another day yesterday. The dying colonel had a fairly comfortable day, sleeping much of the time. He has taken practically no nourishment for a week, but, despite his distressing physical condition, his mind is clear and his one remaining earthly desire seems to be that he may cause others as little trouble as possible.
